

Take Full Advantage of MOCK PLACEMENTS (How you should prepare for MOCKS)

Preparing for campus placement is the initial step in preparing for a professional life ahead. Mock placements pave a path for better performance in the actual placements ahead, hence preparation for mock placements holds significance.

Here are a few points that are to be kept in mind to make the Mock Placements beneficial:

- Serious preparation for the aptitude test helps in analyzing where you stand based on the preferences of a company for recruitment. Few tips that would fetch you exceptional scores:
  1. Solve random aptitude-based tasks constantly & consistently.
  2. Gather previous aptitude test papers & solve them to get hands-on experience.
  3. Talk to professionals/seniors in your domain & ask for relevant tips.
  4. Don't shy away from taking feedback.
  5. Acquire in-depth knowledge of your core field as much as you can.
- Preparing for group discussion during the Mock Placement drive is paramount. Here are a few tips to prepare for a group discussion more effectively:

1. Be clear:

Think rationally before starting the discussion & always adopt a solution-based approach rather than constantly talking about only the problem with no solution.

2. Sharpen Your Communication Skills:

To have an edge over the rest of the candidates, it is important that your communication skills are well polished. The best way to sharpen one's communication skills is by reading or speaking consistently.

3. Take charge:

Take clues from what other candidates are talking about & add in wherever you feel is apt. Be quick to respond but in a more professional manner, respecting everyone's point of view.

- The right attitude and right preparation are what make an individual stand out from the rest. Hence, make sure you are well prepared for your upcoming campus placements.
